BREAST AUGMENTATION

What is Breast Augmentation?

Breast augmentation is also referred to as 'breast aug' or 'breast job', mammoplasty, 'breast enlargement' or 'breast implants'

In this process women's breasts are enlarged or in some cases reestablished as per a patient's requirement. This procedure can also restore breast volume lost after weight reduction or pregnancy, achieve a better breast size equality or more rounded breast shape. This enhancement is done by using a silicone gel implant or saline implant or also in some cases fat from other parts of the body is transferred to the breast, this process is called fat transfer breast augmentation.

It increases the projection of breasts and makes them appear more complete, also improves the balance of breast and hip form, enhancing self-image and self-confidence.

What are breasts composed of?

Female breasts comprise three main structures that are positioned above the pectoralis muscle: skin, fat, and glandular breast tissue (milk ducts and milk-producing glands).

Glandular tissue in the breasts may not develop proportionally with the rest of the body. Some women have more than others for no apparent reason.

WHO NEEDS IT?/ CANDIDATURE FOR BREAST AUGMENTATION

Who is the best candidate for BREAST AUGMENTATION?

- If you think this surgery will help you to feel better about your appearance and restore your confidence in your sexuality.
- If you think this surgery will make your appearance confident
- If you think this surgery will give you feeling of "wholeness"
- If your breasts are asymmetrical and surgery will improve symmetry
- To allow you to wear certain clothes which you like
- If you think this surgery will give you feeling of femininity
- If you have gone through a surgical operation to remove a breast (mastectomy) and cancer experience.

BENEFITS OF BREAST AUGMENTATION

Advantages

It's a long term solution

You will not have to live with external breast pads or breasts.

You can start living new life without reminding mastectomy and cancer experience.

It can help you feel better about how you look and restore confidence in your sexuality.

PHYSICAL APPEARANCE:

Youthfulness

Ageing is a natural process which everyone goes through. Visible wrinkles, fine lines, blemishes are signs of ageing. Such skin flaws makes you look tired or aged. But with BREAST AUGMENTATION like suitable treatment one feels younger, healthier and rejuvenated.

Natural

Nowadays BREAST AUGMENTATION is gaining immense popularity because it produce results that blend extremely well with a patient's body aesthetics. Soon after the surgery, one gets back to the desired or normal shape of a treated body part. One does not have to wait long to see the result, which is the beauty of cosmetic surgery.

IMPROVED PHYSICAL HEALTH:

Some cosmetic surgery procedures have double advantage; it will improve physical health as well as your looks.

For example, a rhinoplasty or nose job enhances the aesthetics of the nose and at the same time helps improve breathing and can potentially reduce sinus infections.

Breast reduction surgery, which is commonly requested by many women has benefits for not only improving aesthetic appearance and but also eliminates any physical and emotional discomfort which come along with it. Some researchers also believe that removal of breast tissue in men can lower the risk of cancer in that tissue.

INCREASED CONFIDENCE AND ENHANCED MENTAL HEALTH:

Self Confidence is a tool that helps us face challenges and tackle problems in life, with great certainty. When you look good, you feel good which in turn increases your self confidence. It leads to greater willingness to try new things or open up in social situations. You become more willing and open to wearing certain clothes or participating in activities which you avoided prior to surgery, due to discomfort in your appearance.

Certain clinicians and psychologists feel, few corrections in your body parts, by cosmetic surgery can not only lead to emotional wellness but also enhanced mental health.

OTHER OPPORTUNITIES:

Studies do suggest that people that are more attractive benefit in their personal as well as professional lives. Studies have also found, good looking people have a higher probability of getting promotions and making more salary.

A 2012 study published in Applied Financial Economics revealed that good looking real estate agents were able to sell properties at a higher price than agents that were average looking.
